Message for 1Ls

We would like you to settle into your first semester of classes without any unnecessary distractions, including thoughts about your short and long-term career goals. Thus, under an approach to first-year counseling typical of all law schools, we do not provide one-on-one career counseling services to first-year students at the beginning of the fall semester. Counseling appointments will become available beginning on Monday, October 18, 2021. Similarly, employers and first-year law students are asked to not initiate contact with each other for job application and related purposes prior to Wednesday, December 1, 2021.
