November 30: Fall Term Instruction for all students ends.
December 1 – 4: Reading Period
Tuesday, December 5: Final examinations begin.

All exams will be using Exam4 software to type your exams, both Ithaca and NY sections. Students are reminded that it is the policy of the Law School that the exam questions and answers must be submitted on the day and hour specified. Extensions are not available for equipment failure (such as printing problems) or other delays.

Exam formats:
Closed Mode/Closed Book (CB): Students have access only to the exam they are typing. They may not access any other material or information through their computer, including hard drive, notes, applications, E-books, or the internet.
Closed Mode/Open Book (OB): Students have access only to the exam they are typing and hard copy notes. They may not access any other material or information through their computer, including hard drive, applications, E-books, or the internet.
Open Laptop/Open Book (OL): Students may access their hard drive and other applications but do not have access to the internet. Exam4 prohibits cutting and pasting from any external document into the exam screen. No access to E-books.
Open Laptop + Network (OL&N): Students can access their hard drive, applications, and the internet. Exam4 prohibits cutting and pasting from any external document into the exam screen.
Take-home: Access to the hard drive, other applications, and the internet. Students are able to cut and paste external text into their exam answers.

E-Books
As students are expected to purchase their own casebooks, please be aware that the use of e-books has posed some issues in past exam cycles. For example, if an e-book is not downloadable, you may not be able to consult it during an open-book exam. If your professor allows you to print materials during the exam but does not allow internet access, the e-book may not be accessible during the exam. Be sure to clarify with the professor about exam format early in the term, before you make your decision to use an e-book or a printed book. Some publishers offer a print-on-demand option or extra pdf/paper copy, which may be helpful. However, keep in mind that pagination in an e-book often is different from pagination of a physical copy.

TAKE HOME EXAMS:
Take home exams will be available from the Exam4 website unless otherwise noted. Instructions to access the site will be available on the My Exam Portal for students prior to the exam.
- If the take-home exam is not timed, a student may suspend their work > close Exam4 > come back to the exam later and resume work. Take-home files can be re-opened and read by students after the exam has ended.
- IMPORTANT: If the take-home exam is timed and you suspend the exam, it WILL NOT stop the clock.
- Students with take-home examinations are reminded that it is the policy of the Law School that the exam questions and answers must be handed in the day and hour specified. Extensions are not available for equipment failure (printing problems) or other delays. The Registrar’s staff will not be able to assist you in remedying problems.
